Reconciliation Action Plan 2009

As former United Nations Secretary-General Kofi Annan has pointed so inspiring out "Reconciliation is the highest Form of Dialogue". Reconciliation is seen by many as a key concept for future relations between individuals, Civil Society and States.

This Presentation will address the impact the UN International Year of Reconciliation 2009 can have. What steps can be taken to make this noble Initiative a success. How the understanding of Reconciliation creates a strong and stable supportive environment for solution finding. Inspiring best practice examples will be addressed and reviewed.

An interactive panel to floor exchange for personal reconciliation experiences, designed to enrich the program, will round up the Presentation.
